The 3 website problems I fix

Which one is yours?

The DIY site that never got finished

THE PROBLEM

Built on Wix or Squarespace one weekend. Slow and awkward on a phone.

WHAT I DO

A page designed for phones first, with your number and enquiry button always one tap away.

The agency quote that made you wince

THE PROBLEM

Thousands of pounds, months of meetings, and an account manager who has never met the builder.

WHAT I DO

A fixed price agreed up front, and you deal directly with the person doing the work.

The site that looks nice and does nothing

THE PROBLEM

Stock photos and vague wording that never say where you work or what to do next.

WHAT I DO

Clearly show what you do and who for, real reviews, and one obvious next step.
